Organized by	Department of EEE
Objectives of the event/activity	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ➤ Diploma III sem students of all the department participated actively. ➤ This event was to warmly welcome the new students (Diploma students) from all the department, facilitate their integration into the academic community, and inspire them for a successful journey ahead.
Participants (Please attach list of participants, if it is organized/conducted in the dept.)	102

Event Description:

The event commenced with the welcoming of chief guests and dignitaries onto the stage (Dias). The formal inauguration took place at 10:50 am, led by Dr. H. Ramakrishna, the Principal of SCE, alongside heads of departments (HODs) and students. During the inauguration, Dr. Ramakrishna delivered an address, emphasizing the importance of student integration into the academic community and motivating them for a successful journey ahead.

Following the inauguration, senior students from the departments of Electrical and Electronics Engineering (EEE) and Electronics and Communication Engineering (ECE) presented various performances. These performances likely showcased the talents and skills of the students, contributing to the vibrant atmosphere of the event.

Additionally, several students shared their positive experiences at SCE, highlighting the enriching environment and opportunities available at the institution. This segment likely served to inspire and inform new students about the campus life and academic culture.

The event concluded with fun activities organized by senior students for the newcomers. These activities may have been designed to foster a sense of camaraderie and belonging among the incoming students, helping them to adapt to their new academic environment in an enjoyable manner.

Electronic System Design (ESD) from Concept to Product

Speaker Bio: Dr. Somsing Rathod received his B.E degree in Electronics & Communication Engineering from Karnataka University Dharwad in 1999. He completed his M.Tech from IIT Delhi, and Ph.D. from the Defence Institute of Advanced Technology, Pune. He started his professional career as a Scientist-'B' in Electronics and Radar Development establishment (LRDE), Defence Research & Development Organization (DRDO), Bangalore. Currently, he is heading the Information Processing and Retrieval Group.

He has contributed immensely towards realization of Digital and RF Subsystems for modern Active Phased Array Radar. He is a current Member of Board of Studies, VTU Belagavi, a Member of IEEE, a Fellow of IETE, and a Member of the Society of Engineers India. Dr. Rathod has received a Patent for his research work and published several research papers in national and international Symposium, Conferences, and Journals. He also received various Laboratory Technological Awards in DRDO

Abstract

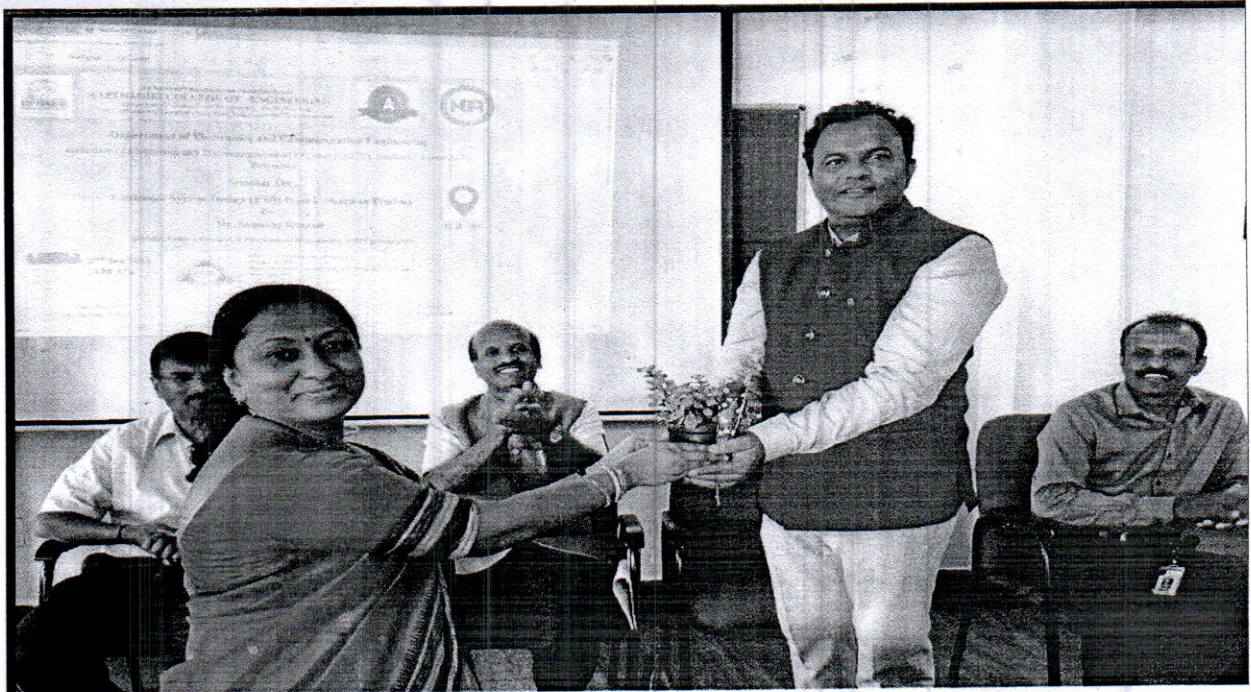

This presentation will provide an overview of the new ideas, concepts of systems, and requirements analysis, highlighting the advances that have enabled the design of electronic systems. After providing a historical context, there will be a discussion of the range of technologies that have been used, including those for VLSI design flow, digital hardware design
